

Nasdaq Entrepreneurial Center | Center Advisory Board

Provide your most promising talent with a prestigious, mission-driven leadership experience.

The Nasdaq Entrepreneurial Center invites you to sponsor your star performers to be part of our Advisory Board, a selective panel of professionals who are driven leaders with a passion for giving back and sharing their ideas with the world. Board members get hands-on leadership training as mentors to our ecosystem of entrepreneurs. As part of the program, they also develop connections to high-profile business leaders, a prominent platform for showcasing their expertise, and the confidence to grow into a leadership role.

Your annual $3,000 sponsorship goes towards your employee's professional development, as well as their yearlong project that promotes entrepreneurship in the local business community.

Why sponsor your employee for the Center Advisory Board?

As an Advisory Board member, your employee:

- Gives back on behalf of your company with a local or global project that helps entrepreneurs from diverse backgrounds
- Attends quarterly master classes and a full-day summit where they learn business and leadership skills that translate into career growth
- Connects with our business community and attends high-profile events, where they'll meet potential partners, clients, and hires
- Gets the opportunity to speak publicly and develop thought leadership, gaining visibility through our business network, website, social media channel, and events

As a sponsor of an Advisory Board member, your organization:

- Is recognized by peers, business leaders, and the Center's network as a company committed to making entrepreneurship accessible
- Invests in the professional development of a star performer, with an eye towards growing them into a leader at your company
- Joins an exclusive business community with access to events where you'll meet potential partners, clients, and hires
- Recognition via our media channels, as well as alignment with the Nasdaq brand

Let us help you grow a class of leaders with the potential and power to grow your business.
